MINISTER MUST GO TO ELECTRIC CHAIR

Rev. Thurston U. Vaughn Confesses Crime Which Carries Death Penalty.

Greenville, S. C., October 26.—Found guilty to-day of criminally assaulting three little girls in the South Carolina Odd-Fellows' Home, of which he was superintendent, the Rev. Thurston U. Vaughn, once prominent as a minister, will pay the penalty of his misdeeds with his life.

The trial was brought to a sensational close when Vaughn broke down and confessed. He named two other victims in addition to those included in the indictment. The jury, out but four minutes, made no recommendations of mercy. The motion for a new trial was overruled by Judge Purdy, and the prisoner was sentenced to electrocution in the State prison at Columbia on December 20.

Tears streamed down the face of Judge Purdy, named by Governor Blease as special judge for this trial. Many jurors, court officials and spectators alike made no pretense of hiding their tears as Vaughn, pale and broken, acknowledged his crime.

When court opened this morning there was no intimation that the accused would make a confession. His attorneys had fought stubbornly since the beginning of the case to break down the strong evidence developed by the prosecution's little girl witnesses.

Immediately after court opened to-day attorneys of both sides consulted, resulting in an agreement to let Vaughn confess in an effort to save his own life and that the case would go to the jury without argument.

"I have acted devilishly, I have sinned," began Vaughn. "The devil tempted me, and I have fallen."

He pleaded eloquently but vainly with the jury to save his life. Vaughn begged the jury to spare his life, not so much for his sake as for his wife and little daughter.

Neither Mrs. Vaughn nor her daughter were in court to-day, though they had been with the accused since the trial opened. He was formerly assistant superintendent of the First Baptist Church Sunday school, one of the largest and most fashionable in this city. He was a ministerial student and frequently occupied pulpits of churches in and around Greenville. He owns considerable property.

Barrow—Dulles. Spring Hill, Va., October 26.—One of the prettiest weddings of the season at Spring Hill was that on Thursday evening, when Alfred C. Barrow, of Lynchburg, and Miss Ethel DuBoise, of this place, were united in marriage at the Presbyterian Church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. H. W. DuBoise, brother of the bride, assisted by Rev. P. L. Bruce, uncle of the bride. The church was decorated in ferns and palms. The processional was led by the ushers—John Wade, of Nashville; James Caskey, of Lynchburg; Lawson M. Clary, of Bell Buckle, Tenn., and Edward Buckner, of Spring Hill. Next entered the brides—Misses Lucile DuBoise, Mary Brannan, of Spring Hill; Alberta Gill, of Bell Buckle, and Kate Killet, of Nashville—all attractively costumed in pink brocade satin and carrying shower bouquets of pink roses. The maid of honor was Miss Caroline DuBoise, sister of the bride, and she was gown in green brocade satin and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. The bride entered alone and wore a creation of white brocade satin and veil, trimmed with lace and pearls, carrying a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The groom entered, accompanied by William Caskey, of Lynchburg, best man. Immediately following the ceremony the bridal party was given on elegant reception at the bride's home, and following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Barrow left for a tour of the East, before returning to their home at Lynchburg, where the groom is engaged in business. The bride is the attractive daughter of William T. DuBoise, now of Atlanta.

CASCARETS TONIGHT! IF BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED, HEADACHY AND SICK

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, constipation, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out to-night with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress—wake up refreshed and feel fine. Let Cascarets cleanse and sweeten your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and constipation poison from the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box keeps your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and you feel cheerful and bully for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.—Advertisement.

NOT INSTRUCTED TO AID STANDARD

Leishman Denies That He Has Received Order From Washington.

GERMANY DOES NOT FEAR REPRISALS

Believes Feeling Against Oil Trust in This Country Is So Strong That Hand Will Not Be Raised to Assist It in Foreign Fields.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.)

Berlin, October 26.—Mr. Leishman, the American ambassador, in an interview to-day, denied the report that he had received instructions from Washington to make representations to the German government against the "war on the Standard Oil Corporation" by the establishment of a monopoly in petroleum, which is to be sanctioned and controlled by the government. It is learned from a trustworthy source, however, regardless of the ambassador's denial, that there had been specific diplomatic steps at this stage; that the American embassy has been making inquiries at the Foreign Office and watching the situation closely. Intimations are said to have come from Washington that the United States may make reprisals affecting German exports.

The belief is expressed here, however, that American public opinion is strong against the Standard Oil trust, and that it will be pleased with Germany's declaration of war on the corporation, and will not permit reprisals because the country is trying to shake off the grip of the trust. This is especially the case here in case a Democratic majority is returned to Washington at the coming election.

It is expected that the government will soon announce its decision to participate in the Panama Pacific Exposition at San Francisco in 1915.

The appointment of a permanent exposition commission is not favored, but it was virtually decided during the visit here of Count von Battenberg, the German ambassador at Washington, that Germany for political and commercial reasons could not afford to hold aloof from participation in the big show. There is lukewarm feeling in big industrial and manufacturing circles, however, and up to the present it has been only through much effort and urging that they have been induced to promise to send exhibits.

Illness of Casarevitch. From a trustworthy Russian source it is learned that the Casarevitch is suffering from a serious abscess in the groin, caused by an injury, which he received while playing. The injury attracted no attention at first, as the boy made no complaints. Complications are feared. The Casarina is said to be greatly worried. This recalls an incident four years ago when the Casarina received a shock from which it is said she has never entirely recovered. It is her nightly program to go to her son's bedroom and kiss him good night. In the autumn of 1908 the Casarina, after she had donned her own night robes, felt uneasy and made a second visit to the Casarevitch's room. She saw the bed empty and the window open.

She ran out into the corridor, where a sailor whom the Casarevitch himself had selected as a bodyguard was standing. The Casarina informed him of her son's absence and then fell unconscious. The sailor gave the alarm and was the first to hurry to the park outside. He heard a child crying in a night shirt and half-dressed. The mystery as to how the boy got out into the park was never cleared up. The boy was only five years old and could not have gone through the window himself. The palace guards declared that they had not heard or seen anything suspicious, but everything pointed to the conclusion that some one had climbed one story to the window and took out the sleeping boy, dropping him when the alarm was given. The personnel of the Casarevitch bodyguard was entirely changed next day, except for the guard who is now in the room all night. A guard has been posted beneath the window.

The Casarina is said still to believe that an attempt was made to kidnap the heir to the throne.

Kaiser Cutting Expenses. The Kaiser is getting economical. He ordered his yacht Hohenzollern this week to winter quarters at Kiel with less than half of the crew which formerly had a pleasant and easy winter aboard the royal yacht. The Kaiser states that his action was taken to reduce expenses.

Enrico Caruso, the tenor, sang before the Kaiser and his family in the new palace at Potsdam on Tuesday, the Kaiser's birthday. The Kaiser, for the second time, decorated the tenor. As Caruso finished the "Bajazzo Aria" the Kaiser stepped up and said: "You have again sung wonderfully, and I have brought you this token of distinction, which I hope will give you pleasure."

He then handed the star of the Fed Eagle decoration of the third class. This is an unusually high distinction, and is rarely given to civilians.

Putnam Griswold, the American baritone, and his wife sailed for New York to-day on the Kron Prinzessin Cecilie.

Mahler's "Song of Earth" was heard for the first time in Berlin to-day. It was rendered by the Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Gustav Mahler. Mme. Gahler, of the Metropolitan Opera House, was the soloist.

DANVILLE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Danville, Va., October 26.—On Tuesday last Miss Elizabeth Griggs entertained delightfully in honor of Miss Carrie Rivers Harrison's guests, Miss Marjorie Burwell and Miss Clementine Chaston, at her home from 4 to 6 o'clock.

"DANDERINE" DOUBLES THE BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR IN A FEW MOMENTS

Hair Becomes Soft, Fluffy, Lustrous and Beautiful Immediately After a Danderine Hair Cleanse.

Get a 25c Bottle Now and Forever Stop Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff.

A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair—No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy; just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Try as you will after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yet really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Kasek's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and prove to yourself to-night—now—that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—just as it has been improved or injured by careless treatment—then clean your scalp and hair with Danderine and just as it, if you will just try a little Danderine, find yourself really young.
